RABIN IS SELECTED

for action. Approval was made of exchange of land deeds between the City and Ivan Van Horn, the lands surrounding Paradise park, which will "square up" boundary lines at 3rd location. The contract between the City and the National Tank Maintenance Corporation of St. Louis, protected by a five year maintenance of city water tanks was approved and accepted. The budget and millage ordinances were given final reading.

The report of the Election Board on the Tuesday election was read and accepted, and a resolution declaring Messrs. Ladd, Collins and Harris members of the City Council was adopted.

City Inspector Willis presented papers of condemnation against the Glades Oil Company. The papers were signed by Claude Williams, on building damaged by the recent hurricane, making them unsafe. He stated that the Williams detour has been cleaned off the premises, and that the Glades Oil Company is building a new concrete block warehouse building.

The new Commission did not transact any new business beyond granting beer, wine and hard liquor licenses to around 20 applicants, two of whom were new petitioners. Permission was granted to the Everglades National Park, to stage a parade over the public streets in connection with the Armed Day celebration on November 11th.

Harold Rabin, the new Mayor of Belle Glade, is one of those who have been down into the Glades section many years ago, to make his mark. He has been in the packing house and marketing game, which he has developed into a business. He has a number of its type in the local area.

Rabin has been active in civic affairs, as a member of the Rotary Club, Chamber of Commerce, and the Country Club, and in the Jewish circles, and at present is President of the Board of Directors of the Belle Glade Memorial Hospital.

As the oldest member in point of service he is a member of the City Commission, and upon his fourth year as a member of the City Commission, and Mayorship of Mayberry was by a majority vote of the Commission membership.

Junius Harris, the retiring Mayor, was first named to the Commission, to fill a vacancy made by the resignation of Geo. Harris, and he has been in upon his regularly elected full term.

Harris has been a conscientious student of Municipal affairs and laws, and was responsible for many new protective ordinances, revamping and discarding obsolete ones. He also introduced innovations in department practices, and was responsible for the Civil Service set up, all of which have been of benefit and profit to the city, and his regime has been one of progress.

WHEAT UP THE BIG SPREAD

Pineapple juice, baked ham, potatoes, peas, spiced apples, rolls, butter, feed tea, ice cream, nuts and candies. Tiny blue plastic carts loaded with peanuts served as favors.

After tacking all that, the young folks somehow mustered their attentions enough to listen to President Leavitt introduce the new officers, the guests from other communities, and the ladies of Tri-F and WSSC, though the latter were not present.

But the big part of the evening was yet to come. That was when the final tuck was delivered by the Reverend Scotty Bozeman in which he continued to explain what had been his theme throughout most of the week, the station of the Church in Christ.

The closing prayer was by the pastor, the ever-memorable Sharing Hour, and the benediction, concluding a beautiful evening, and one that many who were there will not forget in years to come.

Football Here; Look Out The new Commission did not transact any new business beyond granting beer, wine and hard liquor licenses to around 20 applicants, two of whom were new petitioners. Permission was granted to the Everglades National Park, to stage a parade over the public streets in connection with the Armed Day celebration on November 11th.

GOLDEN RAMS

ter, Coach Leavitt, is glad to get the one event filled on his schedule.

As the hurricane destroyed most of the field lights, a complete new system will be required and this will be installed prior to the opening home game. The system will be equal or better than the old one which provided the best lighted field in the conference. The new reserved seats will also be ready, so don't forget to get your season reserved seat.

The Rams opening game will be at New Smyrna, on Sept. 23rd and as this team is a new opponent, the Rams have another puzzle to solve. Band Master Howard Paine has his band in training for the season, and the cheer leaders and majorettes are working in form to strut their wares.

Ladies Night Planned For Opening Of Vegetable League Activities E. E. McCubbin, president of the Everglades branch of the National League of Wholesale Fresh Fruit and Vegetable Distributors, states that arrangements are being made for the opening of the fall activities. The opening will be a dinner-dinner affair, in October, if arrangements can be made with the city of Palm Beach hotel for the event.

Negro Gets Four Years For Lake Harbor Robbery Richard Adams, a Delray negro, who was arrested by Constable Raymond Mock, for the robbery of the Commissary of the United States Marine Hospital, at Lake Harbor, right after the hurricane storm, was arraigned in Criminal Court, Tuesday, where he admitted his guilt. Adams proved to be a parolee prisoner from the Ralston prison. Judge Westcott sentenced Adams to four years in the pen, to be served concurrent for the balance of his prior sentence. Adams stole cigarettes and other supplies from the sugar company store.

METHODIST Continued from Page 1 The church service, held on Tuesday night, reported that the required finances had been secured, so that operation of the new project could be started. The entire cost of the church and wing will reach $88,000, with an additional $10,000 for furnishings.

The project will not be a contractor one but will be under the supervision of the Building Committee, with a Mr. Foster, as supervisor of work. The sanctuary foundation will require 163 cement-steeled piling of assorted lengths to meet the bed rock. Completion of the project is set in time for dedication at Easter.

Following the plans the first weekly prayer service held in the church for many years, was held on Wednesday night, with 45 in attendance, with Mrs. James Ball, as the leader, and it proved a very encouraging and interesting session. Next week the Tri-F class of the Youth Fellowship group, will be in charge of the services.

meet all emergencies. The project met with favorable club presentation, and the Health and Welfare committee is to investigate and make report to the club on its findings.

To honor President "Spotty" Burr, the club held a 100 percent attendance day effort, and while the goal was a few percentages low, special checking will likely bring the perfection mark.

Lion Steve Brown, manager of the Kahn store, is a patient in the Buck Memorial room at the hospital, recovering from serious injuries received last week in an auto accident. Horace Unwin and Brown were en route to West Palm Beach, to attend an evening meeting, when the Unwin car was crowded off the road and struck a truck, resulting in Brown's injury.

OBSERVATIONS
when they sustained vast losses, but now they are giving 100 percent co-operation, and are most eager for the improvement. They turned out in large numbers at a recent regional meeting at Kissimmee, which was attended by Senators Holland and Pepper, and many of the "brass hats" of the Army engineering corps.

Have found out a part of the secret of what was the "bail" on Ralph's softball team, and why it put in so much energy in trying to win games. There was a secret pledge that if they won one or both of the sectional schedules and then the playoff, that a fishing trip down to Everglades City, was to have been their reward. Somehow after the schedule was so abruptly closed, the players got out of town, so the trip was cancelled.

Well, that annual vacation has been enjoyed and now back to the old grind of getting out news for the Herald readers. No more quiet or restful place. I have found that just at shanty Hope cottage at St. Cloud, where everything was quiet and peaceful, if a firecracker were fired off in my section it would sound like an atomic bomb exploding, and cause just about as much commotion.

Peaceful night sleeping was broken by the early morning matins of the versatile mocking bird, as he poured out his soul's beautiful songs. Then during the day the cocky, saucy Blue Jay, was present with his scolding chatter and the robins chirped in with their song. But the prettiest scene was when coveys of quail wandered to the back door to get the crumbs and grain that the missus planted there for them. They showed appreciation by giving their "Bob White" call.

I looked around my grove to see what storm damage I had sustained, and I was fortunate as my well fruited trees sustained only a nominal loss from storm threshing.

On the afternoon of our arrival, an extremely heavy rain came, more than we had here in the hurricane period, and I could have termed it a "water bound island" for that was what it was.

One of the storm casualties that I noticed on my trip was at Kenansville, where a large concrete garage building erected two years ago, and which was used as a shelter last year, was completely demolished by the force of the high winds.

The Peavy-Wilson Lumber Co., which for two score years has operated its mammoth saw mill at Hopewell, harvesting and manufacturing timbers from an eighty mile circumference, is now shut down, likely permanently. Not a stick of the huge piles of lumber which customarily filled the yards are to be seen, everything having been cleaned up. The negro settlement is about deserted, most of the laborers being transferred by the company to Louisiana of Mississippi jobs. From Osceola and Brevard county forests, the Peavy-Wilson company has harvested billions of feet of lumber, and paid out millions of dollars for the timber and labor. This place now is a deserted village.

Driving down through the rich citrus section from Plant City to Lake Placid, one could see the great damage the storm had done to the groves and fruit crop. Grove ground almost completely covered with the fallen fruit, which means before the storm, a rich harvest and profits, now a complete loss. Remarkable the way cities had cleared up marks of the gale that had visited the central state region.

While away, I had one of the most unusual and unique fraternal visits of my life. Orlando Old Folios paid a home visit to one of their housed up aged members, and there held a lodge session over which the aged Patriarch presided. As a Past Grand Officer, I had received honors in many forms and places, but never under such circumstances as prevailed on this occasion, and it was rare opportunity and pleasure to have participated in the event. This event was a case of fraternalism at work.

Think of the "Old Judge" going on a vacation and not getting in a bit of fishing, but that is just what happened. Waters too high. The joke on me was, that the two quarts of "worms" I took along with me, just took their exodus from my cask over night.

The cities of St. Cloud and Zephyrhills were planned and established by the same GAR promoters some 40 years ago. Both are now flourishing towns, depending largely on surrounding territory. St. Cloud is growing fast with new business and resident property, but Zephyrhills is doing well, too, but a bit slower than the Osceola county city. Two more friendly cities would be hard to discover in all Florida. War veterans are dying off in both places, but other people are taking their places and building more prosperous cities, and not depending so much on pension monies as in the past.

With a 31 percent of the total vote of Martin county, electors at a special election approved the formation of a special Martin county Bridge and Road district by a vote of 933 to 271. This means that two new bridges will be built, one connecting at Stuart and one at Jensen Beach. The bridge at the latter place was badly damaged by the recent hurricane gale. Stuart is also to make an attempt to make changes in its city charter provisions, making it more easy to handle politics which might creep into the city affairs.

Palm Beach Makes Record in Its County Pasture Improvements

Farm Conservation work in Palm Beach County the past year, has been one of outstanding record, according to information just released by the Production and Marketing Bureau, and received by County Farm Agent M. U. Mounts and J. W. Strickland, administrator for the county.

County farm and cattlemen, work places them second in the state, surpassing both Dade and Osceola counties in pasture land improvements. The fenced pasture lands now include 118,075 acres as against 99,000 acres of last year. There are 350 Palm Beach County farmers listed under the Conservation program this year.

Local Fishing Party Got Fish At Everglades

Fishing caught the local sportsmen headlines last Sunday when eight came home with a big fish story from the direction of Everglades City, on the Gulf of Mexico. The size of the story? Oh, merely 21 snook, 3 redfish, a jack, a 20 pound tarpon, and a 30 pound sturgeon. That's all. Who were the gentlemen who chalked up this fine performance? Racy Parrish, Hubert Swale, Tommy Parker, Joe Cherry, Billy Hill, and Coach Maynor. Oh, yes! Bob Davidson, who caught the tarp, and Horace Harris, victor over the sturgeon.

The party of landlubbers chartered Bob Thompson's cruiser out of Everglades City and immersed their hooks in the brine just offshore from the Ten Thousand Islands. The fish bit well, and, just to prevent the day from becoming too dull, the boys' fishing craft ran around once. The boys decided they didn't like that, however, so they snapped their fingers at the sandbar and floated off once more.

The hero of the day was Sir Tommy Parker, who so deftly and nobly handled his tackle that, although he won the booty prize for number of fish caught, he kept his sidekicks in bait through out the day. Dutch Wallis, Ray Whitlock and J. G. Garner did a bit of Sunday fishing out on Pelican bay and Wynn's Cove, and for the first time in many weeks, the bronze bars were biting. Whitlock told the other boys that he was going to show them up, and he did, with an eight pounder, which weighed seven when weighed in at the station. Each of the fishermen had three nice sizeable fish for their morning angling work and evening meal.

State Funds For Flood Project Awaits Action Of Legislators

Contracts for first-phase work on a $208,000,000 flood control program are to be let within the next 60 to 70 days, it has been announced. First to be built are levees and dikes to protect Florida's East Coast cities. The entire project will cover a period of 10 years and will directly benefit 17 counties. Colonel R. W. Pearson, Jacksonville, U. S. District Engineer, said he had been advised by the chief of engineers to "commence operations in an amount totalling $74,100." Exactly where operations will begin has not been decided, Colonel Pearson said, "It will be for levees and dikes to protect the East Coast cities." It was previously stated that the first work would be done in Broward, Palm Beach and Dade counties.

W. Turner Wallis, chief engineer and secretary-treasurer of the Central and South Florida Flood Control District, said awarding of first contracts is contingent on the state matching the Federal Government's funds.

The move indicated these special interest forces would deny the wrath of Florida citizens and the limitations placed on the special session by Gov. Fuller Warren, who called it to solve the state's urgent financial problems.

South Bay Schools Get Into Action With Increased Enrollment
Mrs. Edith Eckman, principal of the South Bay schools, reports everything moving very smoothly, classes having started last Wednesday.
Teachers were assigned to the various grades following registration on Tuesday.
There are 43 registered in the Junior High. Mrs. Eckman has the eighth grade home room of 20 pupils and Calvin Peacock the seventh grade with 23 pupils. Mrs. Eckman will teach English, Peacock mathematics and social studies, Gervais McClure, science.
Seventy-eight pupils registered in the elementary school. Mrs. Margaret Hese has the first grade of 17 pupils. Mrs. Olga Harty, second, with 18 pupils. Mrs. Leslie Martin the third with four pupils and the fourth grade with 14. Mrs. Ruth Murphy has the sixth with 16 and the fifth with 12 pupils.
Mrs. Verda Higginbotham and Mrs. J. W. Warren are in charge of the school cafeteria. All the children eat at one time this year instead of trays according to grades as formerly.
School buses are operated by Mrs. Jewel Lovell, O. H. Martin is the janitor.
Blue Bell Liquor Store Hit Fire Last Friday Night
The Blue Bell Package store at South Bay caught fire from a short in the wiring leading to the Neon sign Friday night. Fire Chief E. M. Willis stated that probably the wire had been twisted by the hurricane wind until the insulation was worn and this caused the short.
Considerable damage estimated at not less than $500 and probably not more than $1,000 was done to the building, the front and roof both being burned. Not much damage was done to the stock, he estimated, and the living quarters in the rear escaped damage except from the water.
Chief Willis and a group of volunteer citizens were soon on the scene and had the fire out within 20 minutes from the time reported by a negro passing the building. The water pressure was adequate, well over 100 lbs. throughout the period and the fire apparatus worked perfectly, Mr. Willis stated.
This was the first building fire that has called out the fire department since the town water system was installed and to the first testing of the water pressure during a fire. Water supervisor J. W. Warren stationed himself at the booster pump to see that it operated in case more water pressure was needed.

Beach Party
Mrs. Robert R. Roadman, accompanied by Mrs. Al Cumpston, chaperoned the Youth Fellowship group of the Presbyterian church at a b-l-ch party at Lake Worth Friday evening.
Those in the party were Bob and Nads and Nads Cumpston, Laura and Marietta Campbell of South Bay, Mary Jo Campbell, Ann Bass, Levon Bass, Roland Whitlock, Jimmy Amaguso, Barry Bessant, Jimmy Reesor of Belle Glade.
Special Interests Noising In On Special Session
As the special session of the legislature plunged last week into the critical problem of providing funds for the state budget, the first "joker" bill legalizing one-ball pin ball machines with "free plays" was introduced in the Senate by Sen. Walter G. Walker of Daytona Beach.
Introduction of the bill substantiated state's predictions that special interests would attempt to use the session for their own purposes by forcing "jok-

Mackey Produce Company, a Canal Point organization and prior to that time was field representative for Safeway Stores.

Pioneer has also created a new sales department through which produce vegetables will be sold. Guy D. Wood Jr., formerly associated with J. C. Hutchinson & Co., at Sanford and Belle Glade has been named salesman for this new department which will feature celery, corn, escarole and chile.

Secretary-treasurer of the organization will be Horace Uffner who has served in his present capacity since the death of B. C. Smith last spring.

General operating policies of the company will remain unchanged, according to Mr. Wilson. Brands will continue to be "Frontier," "Scout" and "Sunbeam" except on celery and corn which will be marketed by Mr. Wood under the "BG," "Chobee" and "Wham" brands.

Both Golden Heart and Pascal celery will be packed and shipped in volume by Pioneer for the first time in many years although celery growers in the organization are among the oldest and best known celery growers in the Lake district.

A petition for involuntary receivership for the Okechinta Sugar Corporation was heard and denied by Federal Judge Dozier DeVore in Miami Monday. The action was brought by creditors of the company. The court held that no evidence had been presented that there was reason for emergency action by the court, to protect the company or the creditors interests, or that present operations should be disturbed, for that reason he denied the creditor's petition.

Creditors acting on their claims were Artell and Smith, $10,985.00; Shaw Brothers, $6,890; Profile Supply Co., $1,828.

While the recent storm wiped out a large percentage of tomatoes planted, East Coast farmers are replanting on an even larger scale than had first been intended. Indian River County at Ft. Pierce will in particular expand its plantings. Some destroyed groves will be utilized for additional land space.

Lee county farmers are not only getting money out of cattle, but are expanding farming in on the program and Fort Myers promises to once again become a prominent and important fruit and vegetable shipping point.

Florida citrus groves the year yielded 142,000,000 of fruit which has a gross value of $367,068,000. Recent storm damages will greatly reduce the production record for 1950 with higher prices prevailing.

Southern citrus growers and packers are fighting strong against a proposed 10 per cent increase in "Gift Basket and Boxes" recently announced by the American Railway Express Company. Operators claim that a 20 per cent decrease in present rates should prevail, instead of the increase to make their business profitable. More citrus will be going to the concentrate plant, as this concentration has met with popular trade and household favor.

Most of the local packing house operators have crew busy replacing blown down buildings and making necessary roof and other repairs. All will be ship shape by the time the shipping season opens.

Among the packing house firms which were hard hit by storm damages at Pahokee were the New Stuckey addition at Cardwell, the Jones Bros. addition and loading tunnel at Canal Point, the new Vann addition, the Mackey Produce Company whose plant was entirely demolished and the Pope-Johnson plant at Pahokee. Indiantown got a bad wind beating but the Segre packing plant escaped any serious damage.

Similar projects in the other state districts will be fostered by the Home Executive committee.

West Palm Beach lodge which is to be host to the District lodge, announces the next big dig golf tournament for Sunday, September 25th, which will include a special flight for women players. Robert Muller states that the same foursome which took top honors in August will again represent the Belle Glade lodge, along with other golfers who may desire to participate in special contests.

A banquet and evening entertainment will be provided by the host lodge following the afternoon contest.

James L. Gay and Fred Simmons, officers of the local lodge, attended the State Convention of the Exalted Rulers and Secretaries at the hall of Deland lodge last Sunday.

A meeting on active program for coming year work was adopted. Both officers gave short talks on this meeting.

The Ft. Lauderdale lodge which won national ritualistic honors at the recent national convention in Cleveland, were further honored by having three of the team members declared the outstanding ritualists of the nation.

Exalted Ruler Sam Berry, still being on the sick list, "Speedy" Gay again presided over the Monday evening session.

The recent family night barbecue was reported as both a social and financial success.

The lodge voted money to aid in the pool being raised by civic bodies for the purchase of suitable uniforms for the American Legion units who serve at the funerals of war veterans, as the Legion possesses no such outfit.

Retires From Farm Extension Bureau Work
R. M. Blacklock, who for around 30 years has been connected with the State Farm Extension work, with headquarters at Glenville, the first of the month retired from active duty with the department. He was the oldest member of the state staff. He had often visited and spoke before farm meetings in Palm Beach County, and was a personal friend of H. L. Speer.

H. L. Speer, Ed Lively and "Bob" Davidson, on Wednesday, drove to the One Range Line Live Stock station, to attend a farm committee meeting of the Florida Bankers' Association, which sponsors considerable of the youth extension work in the state.

firey acting negro, did not like the fact that this woman Elizabeth Whittaker was sending her. He used force and choking to drag her from behind the bar and back across the street to their home. The court held that this was not a lawful act and so fined Lowe. George Sims also treated his wife to a little beating by beating and chastisement over her actions. His excuse for eating man power was not accepted by the court. John Brooks also was a woman assaulter growing out of a family dispute.

The police were informed on Monday, that the home of a Mrs. Waddy, residing in Cottage 7 at Okeshobee camp, had been robbed of clothing, radio and jewelry to the value of $500. Later in the day the property was recovered and a suspect placed in jail for investigation.

Another robbery was reported from South Bay, where the Foxton station had been robbed of batteries, a radio, tires and other merchandise. This job is supposed to have been pulled by two youths traveling in a pickup truck, as well as a burglary job at Pahokee.

Flight Training For Veterans Is Easier To Get
Veterans may now take flight training under the G I Bill without necessarily submitting to Veterans Administration complete justification that the course will be taken in connection with their present or contemplated business or occupation. VA said yesterday.

This change in flight training policy is contained in Public Law 268, passed by Congress and signed into law August 24 by the President, according to V. S. Parker, VA's Miami Regional Manager. Public Law 268 is the Independent Offices Appropriations Act of 1950 which provides VA's appropriations for the Fiscal Year which began July 1, 1949. Instead of complete justification, a veteran planning to take G I Flight Training now may submit to VA (1) A certificate in the form of an affidavit signed by him, and (2) corroborating affidavits by two competent disinterested persons. The affidavits must show that flight training will be useful to him in connection with earning a livelihood. In the absence of substantial evidence to the contrary, VA will accept the affidavits as constituting compliance with the law. Along with the affidavit, the veteran also must submit a certificate showing that he is physically qualified for flight training, in accordance with the Civil Aeronautics Administration standards, to obtain the type of license that will enable him to attain his employment objective.

"Competent disinterested persons," VA explained, means those qualified by reason of their personal knowledge of facts and circumstances to testify concerning the veterans use of flight training in connection with earning a livelihood. Such persons also are to have no interest whatsoever, either personal or by association, in the pursuit or non-pursuit of the veteran of the desired course of flight training," VA said. Affidavits by members of a veterans family, or by owners or employees of flight schools do not constitute evidence of disinterested persons. The corroborating affidavits must establish clearly and definitely the following points:
1. Identity of the applicant for G I flight training.
2. The character of the relationship between the veteran and the person supplying the affidavit.
3. The basis and source of asserted knowledge of the matters to which the person supplying the affidavit is testifying.

Judge Johnson partially heard the case but continued it to secure desired testimony from other witnesses not present and to determine whether perjured testimony had been received. the justification that the veteran submits is not adequate to justify the training desired, he will be notified that he may request advisement and guidance before a final determination is made. In the latter case, the opinion of the VA vocational adviser as to whether the course is in connection with the present or contemplated business or occupation of the veteran will be acceptable evidence for determining the case.

Churches of Christ, Scientist
"MATTER" is the subject of the Lesson-Sermon which will be read in Church of Christ, Scientist, throughout the world on Sunday, September 18.
The Golden Text is: "Tremble, thou earth, at the presence of the Lord, at the presence of the God of Jacob" (Psalm 114:7).
A new translation which comprises the Lesson-Sermon is the following: "And when Jesus was come into Peter's house, he saw his wife's mother laid, and sick of a fever. And he touched her hand and the fever left her: and she arose and ministered unto them" (Matt. 8:14-15).
The Lesson-Sermon also includes the following: "The Christian Science textbook, 'Scriptures,' by Mary Baker Eddy. The Principles and uses of Christian Science are described by spiritual means. They are shown by his healing the sick, raising the dead, and destroying death. 'The last enemy that shall be destroyed,' the 'last enemy' is death, and its 'so-called laws' (210:5).
